Aspects of twist-two matrix elements

Presenter: C.-J. David Lin

William Detmold, C.-J. David Lin

Abstract: We present recent analytical results for baryon twist-two matrix elements. We discuss finite volume effects in these matrix elements, estimated using chiral effective theory. We also propose an approach to extracting higher moments of structure functions. This method is based on performing the operator product expansion numerically on the lattice, and is free of power subtractions.